Hoover Commission Group To Evaluate C&SF Flood Control Works And Plans

Public Invited To Suggest Auditors Tuesday 9 am For Hearing

All communities around Lake Okechobee have petitioned both the state and federal legislators to name the dike around Lake Okechobee. Mr. Herbert Hoover, in recognition of the foresight and intellectual fortitude displayed by an engineer who happened at the moment to be President of these United States, in ordering the building of the dike for the purpose of preventing a recurrence of the death toll of the 1928 hurricane.

The same gentleman, now an Elder Statesman of the Country, respected for his integrity and experience as an engineer, and honored as the head of a Commission studying governmental reorganization, has sent men of his Commission to study the position of the government in the overall flood control project now jointly under way by State and Federal governments.

A "Task Force on Water Resources and Power" composed of two groups, one on reclamation and water supply headed by former Governor Leila A. Miller of Wyoming and the other, a flood control group, headed by Wesley W. Horner, engineer of St. Louis, will be conducting the meeting.

Accompanying these gentlemen will be technicians and experts of the Commission. These gentlemen are from California, Colorado, North Dakota, Texas and Idaho, from the seventeen states where the Congress has provided great reclamation and water supply projects, as well as power producing units.

Aside from the actual investigation into the water problem, participation, the methods employed in implementing the program, there is the great question of just how much money the budget-balancing politicians can cut from the proposed plan.

We must give the Commission credit for attempting to determine just what, if any, difference there is between the Florida project and the vast reclamation projects of the west, just what the economic benefits are to the country at large, and the general justification of federal contribution.

In order to furnish a basis of general facts representatives of each of the seventeen counties in the District have been asked to comment to the Commission and any other citizen or taxpayer will be given the privilege of saying what he wishes.

This is a public hearing, and the boys from Washington will undoubtedly be looking for some of the "wrong" things about the whole plan and ready to listen for reasons why Dear Uncle can quit it. So, if you have any such information be there and tell them.

Word has just come that Harold Cole, Executive Vice President and Earl Brown, President of the State Chamber will be present.

The group will begin Sunday in West Palm with a briefing by the Engineers on the whole scheme and plan, and will inspect by auto and by plane the entire area, so that by Tuesday

SOMEBOY'S ALWAYS MESSING UP A LOVER'S THOUGHTFUL ATTENTIONS

The Shine Boy at Dorsey's Barber Shop got a couple of "fat" letters from his girl in Pensacola and spent the morning mooning over the possibility of the "shining" going on in North Florida while he was away.

Love will find a way, 'tis said, and Shine's opportunity showed up. In the haste to get a deposit to the bank before closing time, Red McCarty sent Shine, as he had done many times before, with $65 for Mr. Lovley's safekeeping.

When a reasonable time had elapsed and shine was sought the $65 seemed "long gone." Constable Prescott got busy and placed a guard on the local bus station on the assumption that Shine would be headed for Pensacola, but no Shine showed up. Later, the Constable checked by phone the arrival time of all buses from the Glades and discovered that the Busman at Canal Point recalled seeing Shine with a ticket to Pensacola. He was taken by the Tampa Police when he arrived there from the Glades.

Shine had caught the bus at Canal Point and hadn't had time to spend more than the bus fare.

Shine may receive letters from his gal where he has gone but for some time he won't be able to "take off" to see her.

If you'll like the shot you make, you can drop another ball, all you do is keep account of your strokes. Of course you play handicap and you can play as many balls as you like, except on the green. Now golfers don't you think that is fair? Remember the times you wish you could take that certain shot?

Our Pro, Mr. Zieman played in the pro-members tournament at the West Palm Beach Course recently and was 1st low gross with best ball 64. Last Sunday he played in the pro-ladies tournament at the West Palm, best ball 61, which goes to show our pro can play with the best of them.

The club is happy to have a new member, Dave Gray, cattleman, who has moved to Belle Glade from West Palm Beach. Better watch out golfers, Mr. Gray might give you some competition!

SENIOR CLASS TO PRESENT 3-ACT COMEDY MAR. 18-19

The Senior Class of the Belle Glade High School will present a 3 act comedy entitled "George Washington Slept Here," by Moss Hart, and George S. Kaufman, at the school auditorium on March 18-19. The story tells of the tribulations of a family man who craves and gets — a little piece of the country to call his home. Everyone knows Newton Fuller, (Gene Pope) the sentimental little American who wants just a piece of land — a record of the Fuller family, Newton and his wife, Annabelle (Joanne Holladay) and their daughter, Madge (Jeanie Royals), who are hypnotized into taking over one of those windowless, waterless, almost roofless houses that dot the country side.

Other members of the cast include John Schlechter, Geraldine Bailey, Winifred Barry, Lyn Norman, Joel Parker, Virginia Kelsoe, Jane Allen, Evelyn McTaggart, Jerry Brent, Lavon Bass, Cheryl Corbin and Montine Doolittle.

JAYCEES HEAR BUD DICKINSON TALK ON AIMS OF CLUB

Mr. Fred "Bud" Dickinson, candidate to the Florida legislature from Group 1, was guest speaker at the Belle Glade Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting held last Thursday evening. He presented the Jaycee organization with its 5,000 plus clubs in the U. S. and 50 foreign countries; and a total membership of approximately 150,000.

Mrs. Dickinson, a Jaycee of West Palm Beach, said, "... the Belle Glade area is the most talked of area in the country and perhaps in Florida." He felt that the club would strengthen the community's growth and reminded the Jaycees of their aims:

1. To make the community a better place in which to live.
2. To develop leadership among its members.
3. Offer education, recreation, and social activities to men of similar age.

The young lawyer told the Jaycees that this is an hour of challenge. They say spirit is defeated; they say we have a society of convention; they say political machines are so powerful... an hour of insecurity and war, but "Bud" Dickinson did not agree; however the choice is up to us. "This is an hour of challenge, an age of physical and mental alertness," when young men and the Jaycees must take the initiative in government and other fields.

Today we are better educated than our forefathers. These are faster times, we have to learn to obtain an opportunity. "We must face this hour of challenge," said Dickinson, "as we set up guideposts which we and our children will live by." He said that we as young men must render better service to the community. That we must formulate a code of living by which to live; first character, then faith, and a philosophy to live from day to day.

From George Washington's diary: we should honor self and fellow man; stick to the path we think is right until proved wrong.

The speaker said that this is an age when our children will be driving jet automobiles, an age of scientific and mechanical marvels.

The Jaycees were reminded by the hostesses to the American Youth of today. They are the sons of today. Only recently the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce paid honor to "America's Ten Outstanding Young Men" all between the ages of 21 to 35. They were Dr. Lloyd Thomas Karitz, who risked his life probing for new medical knowledge; Douglas R. Stringfellow, U. S. Representative from Utah; Bishop Wm. Jones Gordon, called the "Flying Bishop"; Carl T. Rowan, a key man in universal struggle against racial prejudice; Maynard Malcolm Miller, geologist and explorer; Frank Good Cullen, governor of Tennessee; Billie Sol Estes; Sergeant Alvin Karpis; Dr. Albert Schatz; and Walter Horace Carter.

A man's success is judged on not how rich he may be but rather his happiness in his work and doing that work to the best of his ability. Dickinson recalled, the reasons for organization the signers of The Declaration of Independence said, "The rights for which we stand are: life, liberty, and happiness, and sacred honor."

Other guests to the Jaycee meeting from West Palm Beach were Marshall Crisler and Dick Johnson.

BETTER READ YOUR PARKING TICKET IT MAY NOT BE YOURS

According to Patrolman G. M. Hou, persons getting red tickets for parking overtime had better examine them before paying the fine. It seems that several tickets have been turned in with the date of the infraction erased and do not have the same name or car make as the stub. The violators place the ticket on some other car, and the unsuspecting person pays the fine. Those playing the jokes should take care as they can be caught and fined.

Times change . . . and so do the methods of recruiting fly boys for the Air Force. Recruiting was dropping like a thermometer in a freezer. The old patriotic posters proclaiming "Uncle Sam Needs You" were missing like a west wind. So the Pentagon approved a new approach over radio in Denver. Into the mike the announcer mumbled, "Billy boy, you haven't felt it, man. Slide into the army for the complete Air Guardmen are hip. They feel it. They're the greatest. You can keep on panning gold in Clear Creek while wearing those cool blue threads."

A Detroit woman who forged a $27 check told a judge, "I knew I did some thing wrong, but I'm not guilty, your honor. I burned the money." Well, naturally that makes everything all right . . . or does it?

THIS HOME OF THE BOB CREECHES IS FOR SALE

Bob and Mizz Ida have spent more than a quarter of a century making this building, and the grounds A HOME.

Nowhere, except in a few of the larger landscape gardens will you find the variety of tropical and sub-tropical shrubbery, plants, flowers and trees that have been gathered over the years in this approximately two-acre lot.

There are oranges, grapefruit, lemons, lime, cumquat, avocado, mango, guava and many other fruits.

The commonplace, the exotic, the rare and interesting shrubs and trees took years and many of Bob's dollars and a lot of Mizz Ida's time and effort to produce.

The house has been completely rebuilt in recent years and has three sleeping rooms, — the master bedroom with three exposures, private bath, and a cedar lined closet large enough for Paw and Mizz Ida to keep hats, shoes, party dresses, dress-up clothes and everyday wearing apparel.

The other two bedrooms have a connecting bath, generous closets and are very comfortable.

The 14 x 28 front porch is completely glazed, has polished oak floors and has been used for afternoon teas and bridge and for "making whoopee" by the youngsters at night.

The living room - dining room with its generous size, windows and special artificial lights, comfortable chairs and especially large fireplace just invites enjoyment of leisure hours.

The kitchen has the appointments of the modern electrical age, with room enough for Bob to fillet fish or prepare steaks for broiling while the normal kitchen activities are going along. The floor wainscot and full drainboard are of tile, with cabinets to satisfy the dreamy culinary planning of a South Gargia bride.

In the wide rear hall leading to the Master Bedroom you will find a clothes press, storage closet and shelves built in a generous nook by Bob which will please any homemaker's fancy.

In the back yard is a barbecue pit, laundry room, deep freeze and rumpus room with a pressure tank and pump for yard, as well as a tool and garden house.

All wood floors, except the Master Bedroom, have fine grained oak floors, and the roof is a masterpiece of the guaranteed type.

All furniture, except personal nicknacks, silver, etc. go with the house.

If you want a REAL HOME with a lifetime of utility and pleasure available,

The Home Will Be Shown By Appointment Only

The price is right, and a substantial purchaser can almost write his own terms.

REASONS WHY MY FAMILY
ATTEND SUNDAY SCHOOL

1. We feel that all Christians have an obligation to attend Sunday school as an active demonstration of their belief in Christ. We need the Sunday School, and the Sunday School needs us.

2. As we study the Bible with the other members of our classes, and we share in group discussions, our faith is strengthened and renewed.

3. The Sunday School offers every member of the family an opportunity to do something for others.

4. We hope that attendance at Sunday school will help us to think more like Jesus would have us think, and to act more as He would have us act.

5. We all enjoy the hymns we sing. The worship services at the beginning of our study periods teach us the art of prayer and devotion.

6. We enjoy the fellowship of other members of our Sunday School class. At social gatherings we have fun, with all our latest regrets.

7. It is one organization which welcomes the entire family, regardless of age or interests.

8. Class discussion often makes us aware of our own fears and faults and offers concrete suggestions for overcoming them.

9. We receive comfort and strength when we share our individual problems with our teachers and other members of our group.

10. Because of our Sunday School training we are better able to evaluate moral questions — and to make the right decisions in time of crisis.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST
SCIENTIST

That increased wisdom and capability are available to all through obedience to God's spiritual laws will be brought out at Christian Science service Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mind" includes the following admonition of Moses:

"Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord; and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might."

Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to Scriptures" is Mary Baker Eddy's statement of the following:

"Moses advanced a nation to the worship of God in the truest sense of matter, and illustrated the grand human capacities of being bestowed by immortal Mind" (200:4).

The Golden Text is from Romans: "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!" (11:33).

HOLIDAY ON ICE OF '54

Then, there's Flip and Flop, two youthful laugh-getters who return with an all-new and different routine. They are aided by Marvin Shaw.

HOLIDAY ON ICE will be presented nightly at 8:30 with matinees on Saturday and Sunday at 2:30. Tickets are on sale at the Coliseum or by mail addressed to the Coliseum.

A Hymn Is Born
BY CLINT BONNER

The Ninety And Nine

A preacher and a singer take a train ride

Two tired men hurried through the railroad station at Glasgow, Scotland. One of them paused, bought a newspaper and stuffed it into his pocket. On the train they took seats facing each other. One of the men was Dwight L. Moody, the great evangelist of the time. The other was Ira D. Sankey, who sang to his own accompaniment, and if not the greatest gospel singer of the past century, certainly one of the greatest. The pair had just closed an extended revival in Glasgow, and were on their way to Edinburgh for a belated engagement.

Moody was under a bundle of unopened letters from his home in Chicago. It was 1874. His church had been destroyed three years earlier in the great fire and he was anxious about progress on his new tabernacle. Sankey scanned his newspaper, was about to toss it aside when he noticed a poem written by a little orphan, Scotch girl named Elizabeth Clephane. He read the lines over and over — tore the poem out and put it into his pocket.

In Edinburgh Moody preached on the subject, "The Good Shepherd." One time for the first time he did not expect the sermon and had no appropriate number. Then he thought of the poem. He put it on the music rack. His hand hit the keys. He started singing.

"This is, perhaps, the only case in the history of hymn making where a tune was composed, note for note just as it stands today, while the composer sang it for the first time.

There were ninety and nine that safely lay
In the shelter of the fold,
But one was out on the hills away,
Far off from the gates of gold,
Away on the mountain wild and bare,
Away from the tender Shepherd's care.

"Lord, Thou hast here Thy ninety and nine,
Are they not glad to hear Thee?"
But the Shepherd made answer: "This of mine
Has wandered away from Me."
Alas, although the road rough and steep,
I go to the desert to find my sheep.

given a party by the losing group. This was a tie. The Barabara and Carol McClure were presented an award for their work in getting prospective members. Sharon Bear rated second in this. Following the Sunday School hour 52 Juniors and teachers attended the morning preaching service in a group beset in pews marked by Junior colors of red, white and blue.

During the early part of the program they sang "Safe at Home" by Mr. Oglesby with Mrs. Oglesby at the Piano. All Juniors who have not attended Sunday School the past few Sundays have missed a lot of good singing led by Mr. and Mrs. Oglesby.

FORGET YOUR WORRIES AND PLAY GAMES

A little more play would make a real need now in most communities. It would help us to forget our work and our worries and make us think and act with other people.

OUTLINE FOR THE INTERNATIONAL UNION SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — Feb. 21, 1954

LESSON TOPIC — "Sight For Man's Blindness"

SCRIPTURE LESSON — John 9:24-38

By Rev. Robert Ford

INTRODUCTION:

Jesus cured a blind man. One who had never looked at the stars, or seen a flower or looked at his mother's face, saw for the first time. It was a notable thing to bring a man from physical blindness to physical sight; but physical sight is not the final aim of the Kingdom. The Pharisees had physical sight, but Jesus accused them of tragic blindness. The final aim of this incident was spiritual vision. This man accepted Jesus as his Saviour, saying, "Lord, I believe." Genuine Christianity never stops short of eternal spiritual results.

I. THE HEALING OF THE MAN BORN BLIND — John 9:35-38

II. THE ARGUMENT WITH THE PHARISEES — John 9:24-34

III. PHARISEES UNWILLINGNESS TO TURN FROM UNBELIEF TO FAITH — John 9:35-38

CONCLUSION:

The power of Fact — It is interesting to observe the way in which the people in this episode used the word "know." The man's parents said they "knew" this was their son, and they "knew" he had been blind. They feared to go farther. The Pharisees said that they "knew" Jesus was a sinner. The man confessed ignorance. He refused to be drawn into any arguments. He simply said, "One thing I know," that whereas I was blind, I now see. One fact is true — a multitude of theories. In the end, the Christian religion is accepted for what it can do for a man, and the greatest proof of what it can do is found in what it does do. Of some parts of our Christian experience we must be able to say, "This I know!"

TWO WOMEN INJURED IN HIGHWAY ACCIDENT

Two Hollywood women were injured severely in a highway accident some eleven miles south of South Bay last Monday when their car was side-swiped by a car driven by S/Sgt. Nicolas Majure of McDill AFB.

Trooper Frank Cline reported that both cars were traveling north at a moderate rate of speed when S/Sgt. Majure attempted to pass the car driven by Mrs. Esta Madfis. He was forced back into his own lane by on-coming traffic and in doing so side-swiped the Cadillac driven by Mrs. Madfis.

The Cadillac, out of control, crashed into a pine tree throwing Mrs. Madfis out of the car. The Buick driven by Majure left the highway on the other side of the road ending up in a muck field.

Mrs. Madfis was hospitalized at the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital with a badly lacerated hip, shock and bruises. Her passenger, Mrs. Faye Stillman, age 52, was also hospitalized with both hips fractured. Mrs. Stillman was later transferred to the Mt. Sinai Hospital in Miami Beach.

S/Sgt. Majure, age 35, was also hospitalized with extreme shock, and released the next day. He was summoned to court on charges of improper passing without ample clearance.

The Cadillac was damaged to an estimated $1500 and the Buick to $1000.

SMATHERS DECRIES "PORK BARREL" AS RIGHT DESIGNATION

Senator George Smathers believes it is time for the re-writing of political lexicons and the elimination of the misleading phrase "pork barrel," as it is applied to the nation-wide program of federal works designed to protect natural resources.

The phrase, he said in a statement prepared for a House Public Works Committee hearing on various Florida rivers and harbors and flood control projects, has been used to stampede many otherwise sound-thinking citizens and legislators to oppose public works which are based on principles as simple as the old axiom, "a stitch in time saves nine."

"We have been told so many times that it is good to save money regardless of any consequence, and that any undertaking to improve and conserve our natural resources is a political 'pork barrel,' that a costly injustice is being perpetuated in our nation," Smathers said.

"For instance, the Congress last year saw fit to completely eliminate from the appropriation bill all support for the Central and South Florida flood control program. This was done on the grounds of economy — to save money."

"The congress recess was not two months old before the same administration, hearing reports from Florida (and I personally made some of these reports) declared half the state a disaster area because of floods."

"As a result, three separate and distinct disaster aid programs were authorized and the federal government began spending money generously to assist our farmers, growers and cattlemen who had suffered serious damage because of flood conditions."

"Now I do not make the claim that a generous appropriation last year would have prevented these floods and made these programs of assistance unnecessary."

"But I do say that the more quickly we carry the flood control program to completion, the sooner will such programs of aid be unnecessary."

"The budget next year carried about 3½ million dollars for this giant project, and we need more than twice that amount."

"It seems to me that the Congress must decide whether we should continue to pay out millions every year to repair flood farmers and drowned pastures and cattle, or whether we will once and for all spent the necessary money to complete this system which will prevent both floods and droughts."

COUNTY AGENT ADVISES POSSIBLE PROFIT IN 300 TO 500 HEN VENTURE

A farm flock of 300 to 500 hens can pay off for as much as a part-time venture, according to Assistant County Agent Raleigh S. Griffith. Such a flock should bring in a gross income of from $1,000 to $1,800 a year, and occasionally it will bring in considerably more.

There's a reason for choosing a flock of this size as a part-time operation. Many hens are enough to merit the attention of both the farmer and his wife — or maybe it will interest the whole family if you have a boy or girl of 4-H Club age. This size flock will produce sufficient volume, and bring in enough income, to justify buying well-bred stock, providing proper housing, feeding a complete ration and practicing good management and orderly marketing.

If you want to give your whole time to poultry, Julian Moore, poultryman with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, recommends that you consider a flock of 2,000 to 2,500 birds as a one-man project. On the other hand, a backyard flock of 25 to 50 birds will usually supply enough eggs for the family, require little attention, and can live mainly on table scraps and loose grain around the farm if this ration is supplemented with a little laying mash.

For best results with your part-time poultry flock, you must manage it carefully and sell your products efficiently, Griffith points out. This usually follows when at least one member of the family keeps a sharp eye on the flock.

It's not a good idea to plan to keep a flock smaller than 300 hens for commercial use, even on a part-time basis. If you do, you may let your eggs accumulate for several days before marketing them. Such eggs are often inferior in quality when they reach the market, and so bring lower prices. A flock of 50 to 300 hens is expensive to keep. Usually with this size flock, you would buy feed and equipment at retail prices and in small quantities. You would sell your eggs by the case and your chickens by the crate — both at wholesale. In this way, you would lose money. Usually there is not enough profit from such a flock to warrant proper attention or care. The flock owner loses money and the buyer gets an inferior product.

Griffith has these recommendations for you if you are genuinely interested in poultry as an additional source of income:

1. Put in a flock of at least 300 hens.

2. Prepare adequate brooding and laying space for them.

3. Buy baby chicks of "high quality" bred for egg production.

4. Feed, house and manage your flock properly.

5. Take good care of the eggs from the time they are laid until they are sold.

After the guests were introduced an evening of fun and laughter followed with the audience keyed up wondering what would happen next. Tommy Parker had charge of Auto-graph Bingo, a very unusual bingo game which was won by Miss Marian Najarian. Vernon Dexter presented Pandora's Box, a wit, wisdom and wisecracks. The featured act was Prince Nur-al-din (Ed Lively) who kept the crowd roaring with his antics. Everyone was in stitches when the babies in Blunderland, Binnie Richmond, Sam Lovell and Milton Carpenter, dressed as babies by their mothers, (Mrs. Ed Lively, Mrs. Peggy Wedgworth and Miss Peggy Wedgworth) were made to take their bottles.

The master of ceremonies in between acts, told anecdotes and jokes on the members. The program ended with the men and ladies singing in the battle of the sexes. All in all everyone had a gay and hilarious evening. Acting greeters were R. E. Howard, C. J. Aspey and Jack Royce. Delicious food was served by the ladies of South Bay, to about 125 people.

Jim Wierenga was in charge of decorations and Emmett Roberts was program chairman for the event.

PASSION PLAY SCHEDULES SATURDAY PERFORMANCES

The first of three special Saturday night performances of the Black Hills PASSION PLAY was given Saturday, February 13th, at the 3300-seat Amphitheatre in Lake Wales.

These special performances begin at 8 pm with all seats being sold on an unreserved basis. Tickets may be purchased in advance at $2 for adults and 65 cents for children of high school age and under.

The Saturday night performances for February 13th, 27th, and March 13th were scheduled this year in order to accommodate many persons who are unable to attend the regular Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday night productions.

Advance ticket sales have already indicated a wide interest in these special performances from Floridians who live a considerable distance from Lake Wales.

Meanwhile, the regular PASSION PLAY season is showing substantial attendance gains over last season. Opening night was double the first night of last year and consistent gains have accompanied each subsequent performance.

Words of praise for the nationally known religious story of Christ's last days have been profuse from both audiences and the press. The dramatic 22-scene production, with its cast of 150 persons, is based by Josef Meier, famous Christus portrayer.

"We are anticipating a large increase over the 40,000 who saw the play last year, Harold Rogers, Amphitheatre Manager, said. "Reservations for the regular Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday night performances are coming in steadily with some made as far ahead as the final one on Easter."

PUBLIC OVERWHELMINGLY OPPOSED TO SENDING BOYS TO FIGHT IN INDO-CHINA
By Kenneth Fink, Director, Princeton Research Service

Who do rank and file voters across the nation feel about sending American combat troops to fight with the French against the Communists in Indo-China? Results of a nationwide survey just completed by Princeton Research Service's United States Poll staff reporters show that more than 4 out of every 5 voters in the nation are opposed to the idea of sending American soldiers to take part in the fighting in Indo-China.

Only 1 person in 10 says he would approve.

In other words, those who are opposed to sending American soldiers to fight in Indo-China outnumber by a margin of better than 4 to 1 those who would favor such a step.

When United States Poll staff reporters asked a representative cross-section of the nation's voters:

"The United States is now sending war materials to help the French fight the Communists in Indo-China. Would you approve or disapprove of sending U. S. soldiers to take part in the fighting there?"

Nationwide

Approve 10%

Disapprove 84%

No opinion 6%

Highlighting today's survey findings is that opinion on the question of sending American boys to fight in Indo-China is highly uniform among all segments of the nation's population examined.

For example, at least 4 out of every five in each population group examined said that they would disapprove of sending U. S. soldiers to take part in the fighting in Indo-China.

And in no single group examined do so many as in each 100 say they would be in favor of doing so.

These groups include men and women, and people in all sections of the country, city size, age groups, occupations, and political parties.

This uniformity of opinion on the matter of sending American troops to Indo-China is best shown in the breakdown of the vote by political party affiliation.

(R.) (D.) Ind.
Approve 11% 11% 9%
Disapprove 85% 83% 84%
No opinion 4% 6% 7%

During the past ten days, the question of sending combat troops to Indo-China has been up for discussion in the nation's capital.

Secretary of Defense Wilson last week stated that the United States is not sending American combat troops to Indo-China at the present time.

He did, however, say that the U. S. is sending American technicians to handle the intricate technical equipment that has been sent the French in their struggle with the Communists — and that these technicians will remain in Indo-China until the French forces can be trained to handle the equipment.

Over the past eight years, France has waged war against the Communists in Indo-China. During that time, France has sent nearly a quarter million of France's annual defense budget to Indo-China.

And roughly one-fourth of French troops to Indo-China, is expended in the fighting there.

VETERANS' INSURANCE AND SERVICE

More than $211,000,000 in insurance dividends will be paid to World War I and II veterans during the coming year, who hold United States Government Life Insurance and National Service Life Insurance policies.

The 1954 regular dividends totaling $211,000,000 will go to World War I veterans holding 375,000 permanent plan USGLI policies. World War II veterans on whom some 4,000,000 NSLI policies are in force will share over $190,000,000.

No figures are available on the range of payments to be made to World War I policyholders. However, the dividends drawn by World War II veterans will be computed on the same payment scales used in figuring the 1953 and 1954 regular dividends, with the top individual payment running to $60.

To be eligible for a dividend, NSLI policies must have been in force for a full year prior to 1954 anniversary date. NSLI policies will receive payment if in force for three months or longer.

The majority of World War II veteran policy holders eligible for dividends hold term policies and are under 40 years of age. They will receive 50 cents per month on each $1,000 of insurance for each month the policy was in force during the year ending on the 1954 anniversary date. Checks are slated to go out within 60 days after the anniversary dates on the policies.

Following are the four options allowed for disposition of NSLI regular dividends. The veteran may request that the entire dividend, if any, be (1) paid at his cash; (2) applied to pay premiums in advance; (3) held to his credit, at interest, to pay premiums needed to prevent lapse; (4) held as deposit, at interest, as part of the cash value of the policy. This last option is not applicable to five-year level premium term policies.
